Our Journey Home
A new approach to preventing children and families in south Glasgow from becoming, or remaining, homeless

shelterscotland.org
How we can help

Shelter Scotland will provide parents with expert housing, welfare rights and money advice and advocacy.

Aberlour - Scotland’s Children's Charity, will support parents and children in their homes, in school and in community settings.

Working with the family, local services and schools we will create a unique plan for each family to meet their long-term housing needs.

Families might be:

● struggling with rent arrears
● living in poor conditions
● living in an overcrowded property
● living in unsuitable temporary accommodation
● experiencing debt, money or benefit issues
● under threat of eviction
● living with domestic or external abuse
● affected by offending behaviour
● experiencing mental or physical health issues
● experiencing drug and alcohol issues

Referral guidance

Families referred by the local authority, delivery partners, local services or self-referral will be:

● homeless or at risk of homelessness
● in the south area of Glasgow
● a household with children aged 16 or under (including unborn children)

Referrals should be sent to ourjourneyhome@shelter.org.uk.

Funded by the National Lottery Community Fund and delivered by Shelter Scotland and Aberlour - Scotland's Children’s Charity, families will be empowered to put the needs of their children first, and find sustainable housing solutions that work for them.
