

Al-Maktoum College
of Higher Education

SENIOR LECTURER/READER IN ISLAMIC ECONOMICS AND FINANCE

Full-Time, permanent

Salary range: £42,226 – £51,894 per annum

The Al-Maktoum College of Higher Education was founded in 2001 as an independent Scottish educational institution. Among our aims is to bridge the possible gap between the Muslim and western worlds by focusing on intelligent debate and scientific understanding of Islam and the role of Muslims in the contemporary world.

As an independent institution, Al-Maktoum College has recently entered into a collaboration agreement with the University of Dundee to jointly offer three MSc in Islamic Finance degrees. Academic staff teaching on these programmes will be considered for appointment as honorary Senior Lecturer/Reader of the University of Dundee. The College has widened its scope as a Scottish Qualifications Authority (SQA) Centre and has ambitions to grow its activities. Recently the College was approved by the SQA to deliver HNC and HND qualifications in Business and in Management and Leadership.

Applications are invited for the above post at Al-Maktoum College. The position will be full time, permanent at the Senior Lecturer or Reader level. The successful applicant will have proven research and teaching expertise and be able to make a strong contribution to the academic profile of the College in 2019 and beyond. S/he will have proven teaching and research expertise in the area of Islamic Economics and Finance and be able to contribute to teaching in any relevant areas, including but not restricted to Islamic Moral Economy and Finance, Islamic Capital Markets, Islamic Commercial Law and Financial Transactions, Applied Islamic Banking and Insurance, Islamic Accounting and Auditing and Risk Management in Islamic Banking and Finance. Active participation in the activities of and the College's other Programmes is also expected.

The successful candidate will be expected to be an active researcher and teacher, with a PhD and significant research publications appropriate to their level of appointment, and the ability to teach and supervise at postgraduate level and to make a substantial contribution to the College's research activities. Fluency in English is essential and the knowledge of one or more languages of Islam, preferably Arabic, is desirable for the post. The successful candidate will be required to participate in administrative duties relating to various aspects of the work of the College as assigned by the Head of College, including the effective delivery of the College's quality assurance systems and other related activities, and the promotion of the College's programmes and activities. The successful candidate will also be expected to contribute to the delivery of Community Education classes and be at all times an excellent ambassador for the College.

Closing Date for applications is Monday 13 May 2019 and interviews will take place during mid-June 2019. The post is immediately available.
