Gul Agha's Story

I live in the north east of Scotland and now I like everything here. The differences from my country and here are the weather, the people and the celebrations. The language is hard but now I've learned more, it's not too hard.

I'm from the north east of Afghanistan. There were 8 people in my family. Life is bad in my country because the government is very bad. The good thing about my country is the nice weather. The reason I left is because my life was in danger. My journey was very difficult. It was difficult for us to walk. Nobody helped on the way.

I have friends here and the social worker helps me but I miss my family. In my free time I play cricket in summer or go swimming.
I want to improve my English and I hope in the future to study engineering.
My dream is to become an engineer.

I feel very good in Scotland. I want to be a good person in Scotland, help people and respect everyone.
